Learning and Teaching in a Time of Change: Effective Chronic Pain Management and Safe Opioid Prescribing

Tracy Vettese, MD (Emory University)

Stefan Kertesz, MD (University of Alabama Birmingham)

This pre-course will outline best practices in chronic pain management and principles of safe and effective opioid prescribing. Participants will learn ways to enhance patient-centered communication when caring for patients with chronic pain. In addition, faculty from both Emory University and the University of Alabama Birmingham will present difficult chronic pain patient cases and dilemmas from resident clinics at their respective institutions, and the group will discuss innovative approaches to these scenarios.
