Floor 3

All Delegates are Subject to the policies below and implicitly agree to follow these policies by attending the conference.

Awards Eligibility

To be considered for awards, delegates must comply with the committee attendance policy and all other conference policies. Delegates or delegations found to be in violation of conference policies will be disqualified from awards consideration.

Expected Attire

Delegates and staff are expected to wear Business Attire. On the final day of the conference, delegates can wear business casual attire (including MUNCH Merchandise!). Western Business attire typically includes a suit with a tie and blazer, pantsuits, dresses, a blouse and skirt, and dress shoes; however, we welcome other formal attire. Delegates are encouraged to wear attire that makes them feel most comfortable. If the dress code poses any issues for your delegation, please reach out to the MUNCH XXVI Secretariat.

Technology Policy

Technology is permitted in General Assemblies and some GAPs for resolution writing during unmoderated caucuses; all resolution writing documents must be shared with the committee's dias. Crisis committees prohibit technology during committee sessions, and crisis notes will be on provided pads. Please note that exceptions will be made for any technology that serves as an accessibility aid.

Media Release Policy

By attending MUNCH XXVI, you acknowledge that there is no expectation of privacy within committee sessions. You also agree to have your photo taken by event staff and to have it released either in promotional material or in some other form.

Position Paper Guidelines

Position papers are not mandatory for all committees in order to be considered for awards. To be considered for the separate position paper award, delegates should submit their paper by the beginning of Committee Session I, either by email or printed to the dias. All work needs to be original, and sources should be cited. Papers should be approximately 1 page per topic. Further position paper guidelines and expectations can be found in the MUNCH Position Paper Guide.

Attendance

Committee attendance is expected of all delegates unless the delegation's head delegate or advisor has notified the Secretariat in advance. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each committee session. Any missing delegate's names will be reported to the MUNCH Secretariat for possible disciplinary action. Missing committee sessions may result in being disqualified from awards.

Code of Conduct

Delegates are expected to adhere to the following code. Failure to do so can result in sanctions from MUNCH Secretariat including disqualification from awards, removal from MUNCH XXVI, and disqualification from participation at future iterations of MUNCH. The members of Carolina International Relations Association (CIRA) and MUNCH delegates must comply with the University of North Carolina's policies on Non-Discrimination and Prohibited Discrimination, Harassment, and Related Misconduct as well as state and federal laws. Any person(s) found violating these policies and/or laws will be banned from CIRA events and/or will be reported to the appropriate authorities. UNC students can and may be reported to both Honor Court and the local authorities if necessary. Should you have any questions or concerns about these policies, you can review them at <https://eoc.unc.edu/our-policies/ppdhrm/>.

Incident Report Form

Any problems/concerns can be reported to the secretariat/oversight with this form. <https://forms.gle/gdJFukZHNRenUGn28>.

Policy on Plagiarism and Pre-Written Materials

Any and all pre-written documents including, but not limited to, directives, position papers, personal communique, press releases, and draft resolutions, are strictly prohibited from MUNCH. All staff will report any suspicion of pre-written materials to the MUNCH Secretariat for possible disciplinary action.

Policy on Position Papers

Position papers are mandatory for all delegates wishing to be considered for position paper awards. Delegates should submit their paper by the beginning of Committee Session I, either by email or printed. All work needs to be original in accordance with MUNCH XXVI plagiarism and pre-writing clauses, and sources should be cited. Papers should be approximately 1 page per topic. Further position paper guidelines and expectations can be found in the MUNCH Position Paper Guide.

Policy on Technology and Artificial Intelligence Use

Technology is permitted in General Assemblies and some GAPs for resolution writing during unmoderated caucuses; all resolution writing documents must be shared with the committee's dias. Crisis committees prohibit technology during committee sessions, and crisis notes will be written on provided pads. Please note that exceptions will be made for any technology that serves as an accessibility aid. Use of Artificial Intelligence in committee and in any materials used in committees, including but not limited to, position papers directives, personal communique, press releases, speeches, and draft resolutions, are strictly prohibited from MUNCH.

Policy Statement on Non-Discrimination for UNC Students & Employees

The University is committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment and to ensuring that educational and employment decisions are based on individuals' abilities and qualifications. Consistent with these principles and applicable laws, it is therefore the University's policy not to discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status as consistent with the University's Policy on Prohibited Discrimination, Harassment and Related Misconduct. No person, on the basis of protected status, shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to unlawful discrimination, harassment, or retaliation under any University program or activity, including with respect to employment terms and conditions. Such a policy ensures that only relevant factors are considered and that equitable and consistent standards of conduct and performance are applied.

Policy on Non-Discrimination

In accordance with its Policy Statement on Non-Discrimination, it is the policy of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (the "University") not to discriminate on the basis of an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status ("protected status"). No person, on the basis of protected status, shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to unlawful discrimination, harassment or retaliation under any University program or activity.

Policy on Prohibited Discrimination, Harassment, and Related Misconduct

This Policy prohibits all forms of Discrimination and Harassment based on Protected Status. It expressly, therefore, also prohibits Sexual Violence and Sexual Exploitation, which by definition involve conduct of a sexual nature and are prohibited forms of Sexual or Gender- Based Harassment. This Policy further prohibits Stalking and Interpersonal Violence, which need not be based on an individual's Protected Status. Finally, this Policy prohibits complicity or knowingly assisting in an act that violates this Policy and Retaliation against an individual because of their good faith participation in the reporting, investigation, or adjudication of violations of this Policy. University students and employees who violate this Policy may face discipline up to and including expulsion or termination.

CIRA Code of Conduct

Anyone at a CIRA event (including MUNCH) or representing CIRA in any way is expected to present themselves in a professional and orderly manner; this includes all staff members (Chairs, assistant chairs, crisis directors, staffers). This includes, but is not limited to, treating all persons with respect and dignity, at all times, through appropriate speech and actions. All delegates will be subjected to and are expected to adhere to any and all policies of the University of North Carolina as well as state and federal laws and regulations. Infractions with regards to the code of conduct are determined on a case by case basis by a 2/3 majority vote from the Executive Board of the Carolina International Relations Associations. Violating the code of conduct or engaging in any conduct deemed detrimental to the organization by the executive board can result in expulsion from the Carolina International Relations Association and/or removal of office from any official CIRA role or position.

Further Considerations

All MUNCH delegates and members of CIRA must respect establishments in the Town of Chapel Hill and on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Please note that Chapel Hill is a historic town and many establishments are much smaller than you may be accustomed to. Please be respectful and considerate of businesses and residents of the area by not overcrowding and overwhelming establishments that may not have the capacity for large groups. Please be patient and kind with employees of all facilities and establishments that you interact with. We are honored that we can support small businesses in the area and we do not want to burden them. All incidents of misconduct will be reviewed by Secretariat to assess whether a delegate is eligible to remain a participant in the conference.

Note of Responsibility

Head Delegates and Advisors are responsible for ensuring the health, safety and proper conduct of their delegations. The expected behavior at all MUNCH events is that of a business-friendly environment, and any delegates in violation of this policy will be escorted out of the establishment. Please ensure that all members of your delegation have read, understand, and agree to follow this Code of Conduct. Advisors will be notified of behavior infractions and when possible will be invited to be present in discussions of response of violations.
